A.H.S. was the place to be this was our year to shine.

We began on the right foot with our Cross Country Team taking us all the way to the state finals. The Golf Team never seemed to be in the rough, proven by their first place 12-1 record. Once again, the Soccer Team's top players gained city honors. The Football Team had a stirring win over longtime rival Turpin, the highlight of the season.

A.H.S. was the place to be to see a first class Homecoming Weekend. Although Mother Nature rained on our parade, she didn't dampen our spirits. The Class of '88 won the float competition by best developing the international motif. Anderson was kept in suspense for an extra day before learning the identity of the Homecoming Queen, Reagan Smith.

Top: The cafeteria is taken over by Mitch Plapp, Claus Hermansen, Ray Sumner, Brian Hock, Doug Render, Keith Jenkins, John Roberts, and Sean Proffitt. Left: Todd Albertz hopes a scope will clear things up. Above: Andy Snyder and Andy Skadberg make fashion statements.

This was the place to be to swing, according to the Marching Band. The theme of this year's Band Sweetheart Dance was the "Swingin' Thirties" with the foremost event being the crowning of Band Sweetheart, Kelly Bartels.

On another note, our Marching Band won the Glen Este invitational again, with the Color Guard also taking first place. Maria Lisac and Mark Sumpter both received Forestaires Scholarships. The Ohio All-State Choir named John Buswell, Melanie Shear, Rob Wilkinson, Mark Sumpter, Dana Williamson, and Karen Ary among its members.

On a scholarly note, A.H.S. was the place to be to find many students who did well in the National Merit Semi-finals: John Brown, Thomas Brunner, Scott Heyward, Amy Minning, Ed Sweeney, and David Warner. National Merit Commended Students included Mike Abbott, Scott Atkinson, Chris Bates, Steve Clark, Michelle Hannan, Jenny Hoagland, Sheri Jenkins, Maria Lisac, Missy McDonald, Erin McKee, Cindy Meyers, Jill Pearon, and Lisa Wissinger.

A.H.S. was the place to be to get a helping hand, provided by The Room, Aftercare, Peer Counseling, and Teen Leader. Local and national interest in these programs resulted in aired segments on CBS News and various local news and PBS programs.

A.H.S. was again the place to be for outstanding entertainment from the Drama Club and Music Department. The Drama Club performed the comedy Fools and the drama Amadeus. The Music Department's orchestras, bands, and choruses provided entertainment year-round.

Another aspect of entertainment was provided by Mr. Roger Grooms, social studies teacher and theater director, who appeared regularly as Channel 12's entertainment critic, John Brown, an A.H.S. stage veteran, appeared in a film which was aired on national television. Richard Oberacker worked as the musical director in various local productions; in competition he was named for "excellence in musical presentation" In the Mariemont Players production of Is There Life After High School?

A.H.S. was the home base for world travellers like Amy Minning, who studied for two months in Japan; Susan Brewer, who also studied in Japan; Tawnya Johnson, who lived in Switzerland for six weeks and traveled to Austria, Germany, Leichtenstein, and Sweden; and Kelley Sharkey, who lived in Denmark for nine weeks and travelled to Germany and Sweden. Since turnabout is fair play, A.H.S. welcomed foreign exchange students Hiroshi Missaki from Brazil, Jochen Schiller from West Germany, and Claus Hermansen from Denmark,

A.H.S. was the place to be for outstanding students such as Amy Minning, NCTE Writing Finalist; Annette Christianson, Oscar Barnes, Student of the Month: John Brown, one of three area nominees for the Governor's Youth Recognition Award; Chris Bates, finalist in the BGSU Social Studies Writing Competition; A.H.S. Math Team, first place in the Rose Hulman Math Contest; Thomas Brunner, Mike Conlin, David Warner, Maria Lisac, and Amy Minning, county winners in the Ohio University American History Contest.

Plans Go Down The Drain

The annual Homecoming game between Anderson and Miltord was scheduled; however the whole month should have been labeled "Homecoming Month." It was then that all of the preparations took place for the game, the parade, and the dance. The class presidents were busy planning and building their floats. The band practiced their special half-time routing. The Student Council dance committees were printing tickets, coltecting food, and planning decorations. The Executive Board was organizing the pre-game and half-time parades, as well as conducting the election for the Homecoming Queen

The big day finally arrived. The parade was set, Tracy Cox, the 1985 Queen, was ready to crown her successor; the football players were ready to kill Milford, and the Marching Band had its routine committed to memory. Everything was ready for an exciting evening everything, that is, except the weather. The pre-game parade was successful with the floats and Homecoming Court parading before the crowd. But eight minutes into the game, the torrential rains began, dashing any hopes for the game to continue. Disappointment was etched into the faces of the Homecoming Court as they would have to wait one more night for the crowning of the Homecoming Queen 1986

Yearbook Party A Success

And they're off! On a warm, fal afternoon, hundreds of year-book-hungry students burst through the cafeteria doors to pick up their 1986 Andersonians. Within one hour, over 500 year-books passed from the staff's hands into the hands of the student body. The Yearbook Distribution Party was like a one-year reunion with '86 graduates coming back to visit friends and sign yearbooks. The sophomores stared in awe at the large gathering. Despite 90 degree temperatures, students sat inside the cafeteria and signed books. The last stragglers departed at 5:00, making the 1986 Yearbook Distribution a success.

(Nikolai Zubritsky), Kris Kibby (Lenya Zubritsky), John Brown (Count Gregor), Ted Geisler (Snetskey), Scott Adams (Stovitch), Kristin Orr (Yenchna), Tim Abbott (Mishkin), Scott Dickerson (the Magistrate), and Annette Christianson (Grandma Zeitel)

"The Festival Of Lights"

On December 13, the Christmas Formal took place. Over 250 couples attended and danced to the music of Rubber Soul. Santa Claus arrived later in the evening to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. But the highlight of the evening was the outstanding decorations in the cafeteria and courtyard. The theme was "The Festival of Lights" and for good reason. A huge decorated Christmas tree stood in one corner of the dance floor. Outside, the courtyard was brilliantly illuminated with Christmas lights and candles. All in all, it was a very romantic evening.

A variety of sacred and secular numbers sung by the choruses and solo-ists rang through the auditonum and created an impressive show Featured soloists were Krist Brookshire, Shannon McGee,

John Buswell, Mark Sumpter, and Maria Lisac. Highlights included "White Christmas," It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year," "Ave Maria," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," and the "Hakelujah Chorus." Mr Wesp, Ms, Wetzel, and Miss Reeves were the directors

Tough Talk From Toma

On Wednesday, February 25, David Toma visited Anderson High School for the second time in two years. This year, the element of surprise was gone, but the message was the same Don't use drugs

This year, however, it was closer to home. Toma introduced several Turpin students at the Anderson talk. Many of the students gave tearful confessions about drug abuse and suicide After the Turpin students spoke, Toma invited several Anderson students to join them. These students addressed such problems as drugs, alcohol, and prejudice against others in the school

Toma does not usually visit a school district twice. This second visit was arranged by The Community Coordinating Council for Youth (CCCY), which won a Freedom Foundation award for arranging his last visit am interested in messages from poetry. I feet that whatever anyone says or thinks can be a poem, so long as it has a message and most poems do My sense of creativity probably came from my father who is stiways throwing in a pun whenever it is possible. Once I think up some thing creative, futnry, or unusually different. I write it down and try the line on my father. If he doesn't move a muscle, it was bed, but if he chuckles just a little bit. It was excellent. So far, my interest toward poetry has been the submission of one poem to the editorial staff of The Sever Miles Review which was suggested by the school librarian. Mrs. Lebold

Don Marcello: Student Leader

At the end of my sophomore, so I decided to run for Junior Class President having no idea what I was arting myself into it proved to be very time consuming and involved duste a bit of work. I enjoyed the challenge and ran for Senior Class President I like to get involved in the activities and working with others. I attend a lot of meetings and spend a lot of time with each activity—teatly like taking on the responsibility of President of the Senior Class and have gained a lot of knowledge for future responsibilities.

This year the Andersonian Staff consisted of the Magnificent Seven Seniors Mike Abbott Mark Ernst Colleen Hines Ed Sweeney, and David Warner and Juniors Mary Helen Gruber and Nickle Karampas. Putting together a yearbook is a thankless job but somebody has to do it. We're glad they decided to volunleer their time.

We'll begin with the seniors. Colleen Hines is a veteran staff member last year she was co-editor and this year she was one of the tri-editors. Colleen worked on many of the activities layouts. and stories. We tried to stop her from writing captions - we'd have too many awsuits. Voted "Most Witty" by her peers, Colleen certianly spiced up many conversations and character assassinal tion sessions. We prefered to call her Miss Vitriolic, a title she has held since freshman year. Besides being Anderson's top verbat hitwoman, Colleen was also an officer in National Honor Society and ironically enough, was the social committee chairman of Student Council. Next year she will be wreaking havoc on Europe as an exchange student. Alter that - Hollywood or bust

Our other typist was also a first year member David Warner assisted Mark in typing hundreds of names and senior activities. He probably could have typed thousands of names and activities if only he'd have done his English homework at home instead of in the yearbook office. Besides being a typing wiz, Dave is also a math wiz. He was named as Anderson's "Outstanding Math Student" He was a National Ment Finalist and the winner of several scholarships Dave will be attending Georgia Tech and will major in electrical engineering

Also begining with slave status as a first year staff member was Ed "The Animal" Sweeney After compiling and typing the always-horrendous index virtually single-handedty, Ed, 100 achieved god status. Even giving up a study hall to work in the yearbook oflice, he was a dedicated staff member. The yearbook was his life, despite his also being involved in Student Council as vice-president. Ed will be a Redskin. again next year - at Miaml University Despite his grade on the Orestera test Ed is one smart guy. He was a National Ment Finalist and was the winner of four scholarships. Ed will major in political science, although we think he should switch to English

Now for the juniors ... Mary Helen Gruber was one the th-editors this year When she wasn't having man trouble she worked on the sports and advertising sections. Besides working behind the scenes on the yearbook, she also worked behind the scenes on the drama productions, designing and painting scenery. She was also involved in chorus and peer counseling. She was the winner of the Brown Book Award and received district Honorabie Mention honors in the English 11 Scholastic Tests. She is a member of National Nickle Karampas was the glue that held the staff together. As a fri-ed for, she not only took care of her own sections, but also pitched in to help when other sections needed assistance. Assuming responsibility is not new to Nickle. She demonstrated this abity as secretary for the Mixed Chorus and as a member of Student Council, it is no wonder that Nickle was named as the Outstanding Junior." She is also a member of Cum Laude Society and National Honor Society.

The staff would also like to thank Mr Furner for the class lists and the computerized alphabetical listing. Also, thanks to Mr. Penwell for running down renegade coaches so that we could write the sports stories.

Finally, thanks to Dick Chiars, AYC Representative, Pat McKenrick and Executive Lab, and Gary Brenner and Executive Studio for all their help
